

The Mount Airy Museum of Regional History's Traveling Exhibit Service (TES) provides museums, historical societies, art centers and other qualified institutions with quality traveling exhibits at an affordable price. This is a new program so selection is currently limited, but we will be expanding the exhibition offerings as they are developed so please check back periodically.

Most exhibits are panel shows that are planned for small to medium sized institutions with a dedicated exhibit space from 300-1200 square feet. They are available for a standard 12 week booking period and are designed so that you can utilize objects available locally to illustrate the stories told.

For more information about the renting an exhibit contact Amy Snyder, Curator.
